

SENATE DEFEATS MINE LOSS BILL

ELLIOT OPPOSES PASSAGE OF MEASURE

Industrial Act Left Off of Working Calendar in Upper House

DENVER, March 19.—The senate today by a vote of 21 to 15 killed the Knauss bill appropriating approximately $50,000 for the relief of the Empire Mining company for losses sustained during disorders growing out of the recent coal strike. Two similar bills, appropriating sums for other companies for strike losses, are also pending, but friends of the measure state that it is improbable that their passage will be pressed.

In supporting the bill during the senate debate today, Senator Knauss cited the action of a previous general assembly which reimbursed the Western Federation of Miners for property destroyed at Cripple Creek during the strike of 11 years ago. Senators Elliot, Affolter, Napier and Gardner opposed the bill on the ground that it set a precedent that would be damaging in the future. The debate occupied all of the afternoon session.

The Crist bill, creating a state board of chiropractic examiners, was passed by the house.

Howland Before Committee.

W. W. Howland, former representative recently expelled on charges growing out of the receipt of a package of money at his desk, appeared before the special committee of the house, which recommended his expulsion, today in answer to a summons. He denied a report that he had received a second package of money from supporters of the bill creating "Carlson" county. He reiterated his second story to the investigating committee in which he said he received $15 from Dr. Mary Bates to be turned over to a detective. Referring to the action of the house in expelling him, Howland thanked the members for not prolonging the matter through debate.

The senate today adopted a special program reported by its special committee. The report did not give a place to the industrial commission and workers' compensation bills, but it was understood these would be made a special order of business.

Senate Calendar.

The calendar passed contained the following:

Fincher bill, providing a short ballot.

Harris bill, prohibiting corporal punishment at the boys' and girls' state schools.

West bill, restoring sections 36 and 37 to the public utilities law.

The Robinson bill, to abolish the mill levy for the board of Capitol managers.

The West bill, abolishing the state civil service commission.

A bill to amend the present state civil service laws was reported to the house by the special committee appointed by the Republican caucus. The effect of the bill would be to abolish the present civil service board and its list of eligibles; creating a new board and provide for examinations at each county seat under the supervision of the county superintendent. The bill exempts the chief deputy, chief clerk and private stenographer of the state executive officers and the state institutions, the supreme court stenographer and present state civil service employees unless the latter's positions are abolished.

DR. HAYDEN HONORED BY INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

Colorado Springs Man Made Honorary President of Panama-Pacific Dental Organization

Dr. Henry B. Hayden, a dentist, with offices at 700 Exchange National bank building, has received word that he has been named an honorary president of the Panama-Pacific dental congress, an international convention of dentists to be held at San Francisco the latter part of August and the first of September, this year. The office is one of the greatest in the gift of the congress and it is considered a high honor.

Dr. Hayden is chairman of the executive committee of Colorado, appointed by the Panama-Pacific congress, and has had charge of arrangements for the congress so far as this state is concerned. He has practiced in Colorado Springs for 15 years, and is one of the best-known dentists in the west. He has been president of the Colorado Dental association and has always been associated with progressive movements in this part of the country. He also has been a delegate to many national and international conferences in all parts of the country and is well known to the leading men of the profession.

The Panama-Pacific congress will be probably the largest of the kind ever held, being international in scope. About 1,000 dentists have affirmed their intention of attending. But few honorary presidents will be named. Since no state and foreign dentists are represented, and it is considered quite an honor among the professional men to be one

GERMAN CONSPIRATOR BACK OF PASSPORT FRAUDS IN AMERICA

Stegler, Cook and Madden Sentenced to Prison; Are Tools of Higher Up

NEW YORK, March 19.—An arch-conspirator, a representative of the German government immune from arrest, is the real background for three men heretofore of no importance, who were sentenced today for conspiring against the United States. It was declared in court.

Richard F. Stegler, a German naval reservist, pleaded guilty today to the charge and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Richard Madden and Gustave Cook, his alleged accomplices, were found guilty yesterday and were sentenced today to 18 months imprisonment each in the New York county penitentiary. All three, Charles H. Griffiths, Stegler's counsel, said, in pleading for leniency for his client, were puppets.

Mr. Griffiths, in his address, avoided mention of the name of the "representative of the German government," to whom he alluded. Judge Cushman, in sentencing Stegler, said he would take into consideration the fact that he had made a clean breast of his part in the conspiracy, but said:

"Since at this time there is a large foreign-born population which still apparently shows allegiance to foreign governments, something should be done to discourage acts of this kind. It would not do to send him out from here set free and let him pose as a hero."

Stegler Mere Tool.

"Stegler is not the instigator of this conspiracy," Mr. Griffiths declared. "He is not the arch-conspirator. Having lost his position in an exporting house, Stegler went to a representative of the German government here to ask if he could help him out. There a plan was suggested to get him a passport and go to England as a spy. Money was given him to get the passport. Together with his accomplices, Madden and Cook, they went to England and there they carried out the scheme. There was where the money came from—$200 in all-out of which he paid Madden and Cook."

"Stegler, the attorney continued, was ready to go, but wanted written assurance that in case of death in England, his wife would be provided for."

He gave up the plan. Mr. Griffiths declared that Stegler was left for the German government. The representative of the German government then offered him a check around the barriers and locks. This representative is, on account of his position, immune from arrest. If he were not, I could show to this court that Stegler was left for the German government. Stegler, Madden and Cook are the only ones in this conspiracy that the law can reach."

G. O. P. BROUGHT PRESENT CRISIS?

SEN. LEWIS EXPLAINS THE SITUATION

Also Paints Dark Picture for U. S. if Philippines Are Retained

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 19.—A review of the record of the Democratic national administration, praise for President Wilson and denunciation of Republican leaders and Republican policies were included in the speech of Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois at a banquet of Democratic members of the Missouri legislature tonight.

"Ex-President Taft," he said, "in an address in New York, called attention to the fact that in 1910 this nation was on the eve of a revolution. The danger is that the Republican party has administered this government that the courts were toppling, judges were believed to be universally corrupt, corporate power had been permitted to subordinate the individual to the point that he had become a subject. Competition in the arts of mankind was throttled, and in the race of life men were huddled and an attempt was made to force them to prevent them from crying out their grievances."

Result of G. O. P. Rule.

"In high quarters it was proposed that arms be established to handle every factory, and in turn every municipality into part of the sugar, cotton and oil trusts, and the citizen was suffering."

"This is the state in which politics of the Republican masters had brought this country."

"To remedy such a state of condition, the democracy was called to power. The Democratic administration discredited the money monopoly, scattered the money trust barons and sent them to outer darkness. These distinguished masters used to dwell the misery of the country, but among themselves chuckle with delight at the contemplation of once again going into power in the name of a political party, where they can further loot railroads, rob banks, in the name of insurance companies take the funds of widows and orphans, defile legislatures, corrupt courts, debauch the republic and bring the nation again to the extreme of what ex-President Taft aptly described as the verge of revolution."

Senator Lewis, speaking before the Missouri legislature tonight, said the United States should decide whether she would retain the Philippines and maintain her great fleets to resist aggression on the part of foreign powers or the United States must decide to leave the Philippines and return to the original policy of isolation. He said that the United States should decide whether she would retain the Philippines and maintain her great fleets to resist aggression on the part of foreign powers or the United States must decide to leave the Philippines and return to the original policy of isolation.

Plan Explained by Mills.

Elmer Mills also supported the plan and told of the advantages which would accrue to the people if they were given a national park such as proposed. Mills traveled with the party from California and spent much of his time in telling of the plan to make Pikes Peak a national park.

PLAN FOR NATIONAL PARK IS PRESENTED TO GOVERNMENT MEN

Storm Prevents Inspection Trip, but Officials Will Return in Few Weeks

The plan to make Pikes Peak a national park was presented to a party of government officials yesterday afternoon on a train coming from Pueblo to this city, by a special committee of three representing the city of Colorado Springs and the Chamber of Commerce. As the result of this initial conference it is practically assured that two of the party will return to the Pikes Peak region this summer to investigate the proposition.

Major McKesson, President T. C. Kirkwood of the Chamber of Commerce and Secretary A. W. Henderson met the officials at Pueblo and accompanied them to this city.

The party consisted of R. B. Marshall, chief geologist of the United States Geological Survey department, Stephen Mather, first assistant secretary of the interior, Mark Daniels, superintendent of national parks, H. M. Albright, secretary to Mr. Daniels, R. S. Ward of New York city and Knox A. Mills of Estes Park.

Will Take Up Matter at Once.

While in no way committing themselves to a promise of any kind, the government officials practically stated that the matter would be taken up at once, and it is probable that Marshall and Daniels will come here this summer to see the Pikes Peak region. The members of the party were given specially prepared books containing maps of the proposed park and carefully selected views of the Pikes Peak region. Mr. Marshall will take a map and work out some necessary details in connection with boundary lines and private property. The books were prepared by Curt Cooke of Manitou.

The entire party seemed impressed with the plan, according to Secretary Henderson. It was pointed out that the Pikes Peak region was a natural park now visited by thousands of people each year, and that it should be made a national playground. It also was shown that the proposed park is one of the Pikes Peak scenic highway, a transcontinental road. The party was impressed with the fact that the region is easily accessible and probably the best site in the United States.

Situation in the West.

In the western front, no operations of great importance have taken place, although the French continue their efforts to work their way forward in the Champagne and Argonne regions and the Belgians still are active in the little bit of their territory remaining in their hands.

THREE ALLIED BATTLESHIPS SUNK IN THE DARDANELLES

Mines Drift Into Path of Ships and Great Warriors Meet With Disaster; Several Hundred Sailors Drown; Two Other Vessels Hit

LONDON, March 20 (Saturday).—It is officially confirmed that a Russian squadron, has approached the northern part of the Bosphorus, says Reuter's Petrograd correspondent. "The appearance of the squadron caused a great panic in Constantinople."

LONDON, March 19.—Three battleships—two British and one French—have been sent to the bottom in the straits of the Dardanelles by Turkish mines, while at least two other warships have been raked by the cannon fire of the Turks and damaged. Both Great Britain and France admit these losses, the first serious check suffered by the allies since they began their endeavors to pierce the tortuous waterway leading up to Constantinople. Berlin asserts that an allied torpedo boat destroyer also has been sunk.

The battleships which met with disaster are the Irresistible and Ocean, which belonged to Great Britain, and the Bouvet, belonging to France. The damaged ships are the British battle cruiser Inflexible and the French battleship Gaulois. Fears are expressed in Paris that a large portion of the crew of over 600 men on board the Bouvet met death, as the vessel sank three minutes after she had come in contact with the mine. The British casualties are said to have been slight.

The crews of the two British ships were virtually all saved, having been transferred to other ships under a hot fire, but an internal explosion took place on board the Bouvet after she had fouled the mine and most of her crew was lost. The Bouvet sank within three minutes of the time that she hit the mine.

Mines Float into Path of Ships. The waters in which the ships were lost had been swept of mines but the British admiralty asserts that the Turks and the Germans set floating containers of explosives, drift, and these were carried down by the current to the allied ships gathered inside the entrance of the straits.

All the ships that were sunk were old ones, the Bouvet having been completed nearly 20 years ago and the Ocean and Irresistible in 1885. They were very useful, however, for the work in which they were engaged in the Dardanelles.

The sunken British ships are being replaced by the battleships Queen and Implacable, vessels of a similar type. They are said to have started some time ago, for near eastern waters in anticipation of just such losses as now have occurred.

Two Others Hit by Bombs.

Two other ships engaged in the fighting, the British cruiser Inflexible and the French battleship Gaulois, were hit by shells and damaged. The British casualties, according to the British official report, were not heavy, considering the scale of the operations.

The damage done to the Turkish forts by the heavy bombardment, as yet has not been ascertained. It is stated that the operations against them are continuing. The four attacks were those on either side of Kepez, Hay and on Kepez, Point outside the Narrows and those on Kild Bahr and Chanak in the Narrows.

The Kepez forts replied strongly when the battleships advanced, firing by the Dardanelles, and all the ships were hit. It is asserted that these forts finally were silenced and a bombardment of those in the Narrows was ordered when the three battleships struck mines. The blowing up of the ships did not cause a cessation of the fighting, which continued until darkness intervened. It is understood that the engagement was resumed today.

Russians Take German Port.

Beyond the operations in the Dardanelles, the most important news of the day concerns the reported occupation by the Russians of Memel in Germany. The German official communication, Memel is a town of considerable importance in northeast Prussia and the presence there of Russian forces is taken as evidence of considerable military success. The Russian generals have decided to attempt a big sweep down through East Prussia in an endeavor to compel the Germans to fall back from northern Poland.

Again north Poland has been transformed into an immense bog by the thaw which has set in, just as Field Marshal von Hindenburg has started his offensive against Przemyśl. It is declared that it is impossible, except at widely separated high places, to move in any direction.

The Germans, however, have started an offensive in central Poland, where they have commenced an attack on the Russians in the region of the Pilica river. There is also heavy fighting in Galicia, the Carpathians and Bukovina despite the heavy snow.

Situation in the West.

In the western front, no operations of great importance have taken place, although the French continue their efforts to work their way forward in the Champagne and Argonne regions and the Belgians still are active in the little bit of their territory remaining in their hands.

Great Havoc Wrought by the Combined Fleet in Daring Raid on Forts

PARIS, March 19.—The allied fleet entered the straits of the Dardanelles at 8 o'clock this morning, says an Athens dispatch to the Havas agency. It is based on information received from Tenece.

The British battleship Queen Elizabeth, was leading. She was followed in order by the Ocean, Inflexible, Agamemnon and Lord Nelson, and then by the French warships, Gaulois, Suffren, Bouvet and Charlemagne. The weather conditions were excellent. The reports of cannon could be heard from the Gulf of Saros bombarding indirectly Kild Bahr.

The warships stationed at the entrance of the straits bombarded Dardanos and Kild Bahr. The line extended from Kild Bahr, on the Asiatic side, at the entrance to the straits of Kalymnia. The line advanced as far as Cavotoma, where a powder arsenal situated below the town of Dardanos was blown up.

Four Turkish forts, Kild Bahr and Yildiz Bahr replied with a heavy fire, shells falling on all sides of the warships and some even on the ships themselves.

One ship entered close to the Dardanelles, but was forced to retreat before a violent cannonading from the French ship, suffered severe injuries. A shell exploded on the British battle cruiser Inflexible, wounding several men, who were immediately transported to the hospital ship.

The town of Dardanelles is in flames.

At 6 o'clock in the evening the action had concluded, but was partly resumed during the night. A majority of the forts suffered severely.

MODERN METHODS OF WARFARE RAISE NEW BLOCKADE QUESTIONS

U. S. Naval Experts Find Action of Allies
Is Not Covered in International Law

WASHINGTON, March 19.—While the United States government does not know officially as yet whether Great Britain and her allies intend to maintain a legal blockade or propose to apply general rules of contraband and noncontraband in enforcing their embargo on commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries, American naval officers versed in international law expressed opinion today that the indefinite limit prescribed—"European waters" including the Mediterranean—might be construed as a legal area of operations for a blockade fleet.

In the formulation of the policy of the United States relative to the treatment of neutral shipping by the allied fleets, naval officers of high rank have constantly been consulted, so that in none of the diplomatic communications sent abroad might there be anything said which could compromise the activities of the American fleet itself in possible future wars. Rear Admiral Fiske, aide for operations in the navy department, confers with Counselor Robert Lansing at the state department daily, and on the neutrality board of three, which acts in an advisory capacity to the counselor, there are two naval officers—Captains Oliver and Knapp, authorities in maritime law.

New Methods of Warfare.

Much consideration has been given at the conference to the newly developed activity of submarines. It is frankly admitted by the naval officers that the old form of blockade with warships close to an enemy coast, passed with the invention of the submarine in the Spanish-American war. Accordingly, in the message of inquiry to Great Britain and France, asking for an explanation of their recent declaration of an embargo, the United States conceded that the activity of submarines might make physically impossible a close blockade of an enemy coast, and suggested that if the declaration of the allies were to be construed as a legal blockade, some "radius of activity" should be announced.

This principle of a "radius of action," or "area of operations," for a blockade fleet was the subject of much discussion at the international naval conference at London in 1909, and the declaration which followed contained the following rule:

"The seizure of neutral vessels for violation of blockade may be made only within the radius of action of the ships of war assigned to maintain an effective blockade."

American Attitude.

An explanation of this was given at the conference, which a recent publication of the United States naval college states "has been universally accepted" as interpreting the rule. The commentary, which is pointed to as explaining the American attitude, follows in part:

"It does not seem possible to assign limits to the radius of action in definite and unvarying figures, any more than it is possible to fix beforehand invariably the number of ships necessary to assure the effectiveness of any blockade. These points must be determined according to circumstances in each particular case of a blockade. It is evident that a blockade will not be established in the same way on a defenseless coast and on a coast possessing all modern means of defense. There would be no question in the latter case of applying a rule such as that which formerly required that ships should be stationary and sufficiently close to the blockaded places."

the position would be too dangerous for the ships of the blockading force, which, besides, now possesses more powerful means, enabling them to watch effectively a much wider zone than formerly.

"Radius of Action."

"The radius of action of a blockading naval force may extend somewhat far, but, as it depends on the number of ships contributing to the effectiveness of the blockade, and is always limited by the condition of effectiveness, it will never reach remote seas upon which merchant vessels sail which are, perhaps, destined for blockaded ports, but whose destination may be contingent on the changes which circumstances may produce in the blockade during their voyage."

"To sum up, the idea of radius of action joined to that of effectiveness; that is to say, including the zone of operations of the blockading force, allows the belligerent to exercise in an effective manner the right of blockade which is admitted to be his, and, on the other hand, it saves neutrals from exposure to the inconvenience of blockade at a great distance, while it leaves them free to run the risks to which they knowingly expose themselves by approaching points to which access is forbidden by the belligerent."

Respect Belligerent Rights.

The United States naval war college authorities point out that, while originally under American doctrine the area of blockade was not limited, the definition "of the area of operations" of a blockade, even if in such a manner as to include a large range of high sea, is regarded as a legitimate act of war, and the belligerent right is respected; the principle which is recognized is that the belligerent has the right to put the pressure on his opponent without interference by neutrals, and, while it is undoubtedly an inconvenience, and may be a loss, to neutral commerce to be excluded from the blockaded area, it is a recognized consequence of war.

The Declaration of London and all previous explications of international law, specifically ruled, however, that "the blockading force must not bear access to the ports or coasts of neutrals." It is on this point which the British order-in-council, if intended to be a notification of blockade, would be in view of officials here, a violation of previous rules. For that reason, further development of the British policy in specific cases is awaited with keen interest.

Food Being Sent to Germany and Austria by Parcel Post System

CHICAGO, March 19.—The international parcel post system has become a factor in the exportation of food to Germany and Austria, postoffice officials said here today. Coffee, cereals and condensed nutriment in various forms are said to make up the bulk of parcels, generally weighing 41 pounds, the limit, which are pouring into the local postoffice.

"The increase has been especially large in the last 10 days," said Martin J. Faubel, head of the foreign parcels section. "Since January 1, the business has increased 33 per cent. Shipments are made by individuals to individuals."

Precinct B in Terre Haute Was Very Lively Place

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18. Precinct B of the 54th ward on Terre Haute was clearly the hottest place in town last night, according to witnesses who testified here today before Judge A. R. A. Brown in the United States district court. The cases on trial are those of Mayor John M. Roberts and 21 other men indicted for conspiracy to obstruct a federal election. Women watchers at the polls were insulted, election board members were thrown bodily out of polling places, and orders were turned up and finally all attempts to keep order failed. The testimony of witnesses was given in a lively manner, and the trial was held in a crowded courtroom.

N. W. Is Good Time for U. S. to Remain Peaceful—Marshall

OGDEN, Utah, March 19.—Likening the present international situation to the conditions preceding the war of 1914, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall made a brief statement today while on his way to San Francisco. He said:

"I rather think now is the time for the entire United States to be peaceful. We now have a situation that has practically the same problems that brought on the war of 1914. I am sure, present and future, that President Wilson will be remembered in the next ten years as the man who saved the world from a second war."

RUSSIANS DEFEATED IN THE CARPATHIANS

Fight Recklessly, but Are Overpowered by the Austro-Germans

BERLIN (Via London), March 19.—Herr Lennhoff, correspondent of the Zeitungs am Mittag, sends the following dispatch from Austrian headquarters, under date of March 18:

"The Russian offensive against the Carpathian line has broken down quicker than was first anticipated, considering the vigor with which the attack was begun. The Russian hope was to break the Austrian and German lines east of Lupkow pass. They sent forward huge forces there, but all attacks were repulsed, with enormous Russian losses, and the Austrians and Germans are steadily, if slowly, gaining ground."

"The Russian tactics consisted in charging in five successive lines. As soon as one line was cut down another advanced, until all five had been shot down. The Russians sent forward all available troops, even adjutants, like the older men who previously were used only as guards for the military workshops. Even military tailors and cooks were forced into the attacking line."

"This caused an apparent relaxation in the vigilance of the Russian vedette service. German troops making a flanking movement over difficult terrain found all the pickets, even the machine gun divisions, sleeping. In battle, however, the Russians fought recklessly, firing while standing with their bodies entirely exposed to the hottest hail of bullets."

"The attacking forces, chiefly Siberians, held their ground stubbornly. Although many hundreds were taken prisoners, none of them surrendered readily, but had to be overpowered in the trenches. It finally became evident that the Russians lacked reserves of equal quality."

"The weather continues severe, the houses sink up to their bodies in the snow. Splendid morale prevails among the Austrians and Germans."

WOMEN ON FARMS VERITABLE SLAVES

Pick Cotton, Do Housework and Care for Several Children

DALLAS, Tex., March 19.—The effect on the health of white women on tenant farms from dragging cotton sacks in the fields at cotton picking season was investigated by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman of the federal commission on industrial relations at today's hearing on land problems. It was one of many aspects of land tenancy considered, W. L. Thurman of Sulphur, Okla., who said he had practiced medicine in the southwest, and is now a lecturer in Oklahoma, was on the witness stand.

"Do women drag cotton sacks?" asked Mrs. Harriman.

"They very generally do."

"As a physician, what do you think is the effect on the women's health?"

"I positively know that the health of many women has been ruined by it," replied Mr. Thurman, adding that women sometimes did such work until near the time for children to be born.

"What is the effect on the child?" asked Mrs. Harriman.

Dr. Thurman said he had seen extreme cases in which babies less than a month old were bedded on the sackful of cotton riding about the field on it as the mother dragged it. He said such cases, however, were few.

Conditions in Oklahoma.

Describing tenancy in Oklahoma, Mr. Thurman said in the old Indian Territory section many tenants were poorly fed, clad and housed, but that such conditions did not generally exist in other sections of the state.

W. B. Yeary of Farmersville, Tex., who farms 2,000 acres, and has banking interests, said it was a mistaken idea that tenant farmers are shiftless as a class. He said they were highly skilled in cotton raising.

A sidelight on women's farm activity was furnished by former county judge E. O. Meitzen of Hallettsville, Tex., who told of a German girl of 19 in his section, who, according to court records, was hired out at $4 per month to a farmer. Court testimony indicated that she could pick 350 pounds of cotton a day, saw wood, plow, drive a four-horse wagon and do the cooking on Sundays. The case got into court when the parents sued because her employer refused to keep an alleged contract to pay her $1.50 per month. Judge Meitzen said the American women did not do such hard farm work.

Special Edition of Mining Record to Tell of Gold Camp

E. G. Reinert of Denver, editor and publisher of the Mining Record, is in Colorado Springs gathering material for a special issue which will be known as "The Greater Cripple Creek Edition." Mr. Reinert feels that the remarkable revival in Cripple Creek is worthy of special attention at this time, and that in view of the recent strikes made at depth, proving the permanency of the camp, the literature of the district should be brought down to date.

Accordingly, he is gathering much important data dealing exclusively with Cripple Creek as a mining center and has arranged with many of the best-known mining men and financiers here and in other parts of the state for signed editorials to be published in the special edition. This issue of the Mining Record will tell the story of Cripple Creek as the business man and the investor sees it; and as he has found it, so that the mining world in general may know just what the district has done in the matter of gold production in the past, what it is doing today and what it may do in future.

CANADIANS ARE BETTER FIGHTERS THAN BRITISH

Frederick Palmer, Associated Press Correspondent, Describes Night in Trenches

[Frederick Palmer, who is at the front in France, for the Associated Press sends the following dispatch:]

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, March 18 (via London, March 19).—"Gangway! Look out for that bunch of wagons!" a voice with an American accent called, and one knew he was near the part of the line held by the Canadians.

It was pitch dark and at the hour when the supplies go up to the trenches. There was not a light on any vehicle or in any habitation, but, after stumbling along, the correspondent passed through an open door and the darkened hall of a farmer's house and entered the brilliantly illuminated room, with thickly curtained windows, the brigade headquarters. An officer was talking over the telephone. He had just had word that a man had been shot in the back by a concealed sniper in the rear of the trenches.

The commander and his officers gathered around the correspondent to go into the trenches had been gladly granted. The correspondent soon was on his way down a dark road with a sergeant from Ottawa as his guide to the battalion headquarters.

Germans Not Satisfied.

Passing through the ruins of a village, the sergeant remarked: "The Germans are not satisfied yet. They chuck a few shells into the wreckage every day. The shells made us kind of nervous at first, but we are used to them now, all right."

In a peasant cottage, battered as it was by a photographer's darkness, an enemy fire at a light—the correspondent found the battalion commander who was from Quebec. He sleeps in the cellar and other officers of the battalion staff in dugouts. The officers remarked that a shell had knocked off a piece of the roof the other day, but that the missile did no harm except to make some dust. The colonel was going down into the trenches himself for the night and took the correspondent with him.

"Look out for that narrow foot-bridge, and here you are likely to slip off into the ditch," warned the colonel as he advised the correspondent to keep close behind him in the inky night.

"Right along here is a favorite place for the Germans to loope up with a machine gun, for they have a clear field for fire," the colonel added when an open space was reached. "There is nothing to do but to lie flat and wait until they are done shooting."

Searchlight Sweeps Path.

A German searchlight's ray swung toward the colonel and the correspondent and then rested on the clear spot.

"Stand still," said the officer. "That's the rule until it sweeps off. Thus they are not able to spot us."

Occasional shots were heard behind the trenches. "That's a sniper in our rear," the colonel said. "Occasionally one gets through. We don't know how. He is always in khaki. We are out after this fellow and we will get him before morning."

The colonel and the correspondent kept passing lone soldiers carrying food and ammunition to the trenches or returning from the trenches empty handed. The colonel spoke to them as "boys," a greeting which one never hears from an English officer.

"As the trenches were entered a sudden command was given to someone showing an electric flash to turn it off as the 'patrols are coming in.' Several men who had been out crawling up in Indian fashion to see if the Germans were up to anything new came bustling over the top of the trench. Some bullets swept overhead. The Germans had noted the movement and fired, but hit nobody.

Heard 'Em Whispering.

"We got within seven feet of the bunch in that old house and heard them whispering," said one member of the patrol.

When the straggling, tall Canadians took the position over from an English regiment they found the crest too low for their height and had to raise it several inches. They have shown characteristic American ingenuity and initiative in arranging the trenches to suit themselves, and besides have

AUSTRIA RESISTING PRESSURE TO FORCE TERRITORIAL GRANT

Statesmen Protest Against Action of Germany in Controversy

PARIS, March 19.—The Austrian government is resisting energetically pressure exerted by Germany to induce her to make territorial concessions to Italy, according to a Geneva dispatch to the Petit Parisien. Count Andriassy, former premier of Hungary, and several other statesmen representing the dual monarchy are reported to have gone to Berlin to discuss the problem with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Minister von Jagow.

It is reported at Geneva that other negotiations fail the German chancellor contemplates a trip to Vienna in the hope that he may convince Emperor Francis Joseph that it is necessary for Austria to consent to the sacrifices asked.

The Geneva Tribune says it is informed that Pan-Germans in Austria are in violent conflict with Czech Transylvanian deputies, who are clamoring for a rupture with Germany and the conclusion of a separate peace.

ROME, March 19.—M. Menadovich, a member of the reigning family of Serbia, and at one time Serbian minister to Turkey, arrived in Rome yesterday. It is presumed that he comes on a diplomatic mission.

which to intercept our fleet on its way to the Philippines. Then Russia, the ally of Japan, would seize northern Alaska.

This would divide our army and navy. England, because of her alliance with Japan, could render no aid to the United States in Canada or Alaska, nor would she dare do so, in view of English possessions and English citizens in Japan and China.

Central America, which has a grievance against us because of the claim that we forcibly took Panama, might lend itself to aid our foe by destroying the Panama canal to prevent our fleet in the Atlantic and Pacific from joining.

It is plain that the United States has but one of two courses. Travels Year on High Seas, 33,740 Miles, on Single $45 Ticket

NEW YORK, March 19.—Nathan Cohen, the ship-ridden immigrant, who has been traveling back and forth between this country and Brazil since last May on the liner Vasari, trying to recover his mental equilibrium so that he may enter either the United States or Brazil, has found a friend in the Hebrew Shelter and Immigrant Aid society of America. The society announced today that it would try to end his travels by having him admitted to this country.

Cohen came here in May, 1912, from Brazil. He was ordered deported after he had been in this country two years, on allegations concerning his sanity, and was sent back to Rio Janeiro. The port authorities there refused to permit him to enter Brazil and he was sent back to New York. New York sent him back again. Yesterday he reached New York for the third time. He had traveled 33,740 miles on one $45 ticket.

It is inconceivable that this man should spend the rest of his life sailing between New York and Brazil, said an officer of the society today. "We have decided to employ alienists to determine if he is really insane. If they find he is sane, we will appeal to the commissioner of immigration to permit him to reenter the country."

"We have reason to believe that there is not much the matter with him. Anyhow he has relatives in this country who would be willing to guarantee that he will not become a public charge."

If an attempt to have him land is unsuccessful Cohen must start south again next week.

Edward McDonald, 60, a teamster, was found dead at his home, in the rear of 211 South Tejon street, last night, by Alex Dumond, a friend who lived in the same house. Death is supposed to have been caused by heart trouble. Coroner Boyle is conducting an investigation.

McDonald had been in ill health for some time, and Thursday suffered from his heart. When Dumond returned to his home last night he found McDonald dead just inside the doorway. It is supposed he was preparing to retire when an attack overcame him and he was unable to reach his bedroom.

McDonald had been in Colorado Springs about 20 years.

OTHER WARSHIPS SENT TO TAKE PLACES OF VESSELS SUNK BY TURKISH MINES

Powerful Land Batteries Silenced Despite Loss of Three Attacking Ships; Result of Long Bombardment Unknown

LONDON, March 19.—The British admiralty announced that the British battleships, Irresistible and Ocean, have been sunk.
The admiralty also announced that the French battleship Bouvet was blown up by a mine in the Dardanelles and sunk, and that virtually all her crew was lost.
The admiralty statement adds that the battleships Queen and Implacable have been dispatched from England to replace the lost British ships.
The admiralty believes the Irresistible probably met with a like disaster. It is announced the operations against the Dardanelles are continuing.
The admiralty statement says the British losses among the personnel of the ships were not heavy, considering the scale of the operations.
The British battle cruiser Inflectible had her forward control hit by a heavy shell and will need repairs.
The Irresistible left the battle line sinking heavily, according to the report. Vice Admiral Sackville Hamilton, who is in command of the British fleet, is in command of the Dardanelles by Rear Admiral John M. de Robeck.

British Admiralty Report.
The admiralty tonight gave out the following statement regarding operations in the Dardanelles:
"Mine sweeping having been in progress during the last 10 days inside the straits, a general attack was delivered by the British and French fleets yesterday (Thursday) morning upon the fortresses at the narrow. At 10.45 a. m. the Queen Elizabeth, Inflectible, Amagonon and Lionel Nelson bombarded the forts J. L. T. C. and V. while the Trident, Princess George fired at batteries P. F. and H. A heavy fire was opened on the ships from howitzers and field guns.
"At 12.32 o'clock the French squadron, consisting of the Suffren, Gaulois, Charlemagne and Bouvet, advanced upon the Dardanelles and engaged the forts at close range. Forts J. L. T. C. and B. replied strongly. Their fire was silenced by the 10 battleships inside the straits, all the ships being hit several times during this part of the action."

All Forts Silenced.
"By 1.25 p. m. all the forts had ceased firing. The Vengeance, Irresistible, Albatross, Ocean, Swiftsure and Majestic then advanced to relieve the six old battleships inside the straits. As the French squadron, which had engaged the forts in a most brilliant fashion, was passing out the Bouvet was blown up by a drifting mine. She sank in 26 fathoms, north of Erenkoy village, in less than three minutes."

"At 2.35 p. m. the relief battleships reached the forts, the forts which again opened fire. The attack on the forts was maintained while the operations of the mine sweepers continued.
"At 4.00 the Irresistible quit the line, sinking heavily about 5.50 o'clock the Ocean also sinking struck a mine, sank. Both vessels sank in deep water, practically the whole of their crews having been removed safely under a hot fire.
"The Gaulois was damaged by gunfire. The Inflectible had her forward control position hit by a heavy shell and requires repairs. The bombardment of the forts of the mine-sweeping operations terminated when darkness fell. The damage to the forts, effected by the prolonged direct fire of the very powerful forces employed, cannot yet be estimated, and a further report will follow. The losses of the ships were caused by mines drifting with the current, which were encountered to great numbers, and the ships were damaged by mines, and thus danger with respect to the treatment."

Casualties Not Very Heavy.
The British casualties were not heavy, considering the scale of the operations, but practically the whole of the crew of the Bouvet were lost with the ship, an internal explosion having apparently supervened on the explosion of the mine."

The Queen and Implacable, which have been dispatched from England to replace the ships lost in anticipation of the operations, are due to arrive immediately, thus bringing the British fleet up to its original strength. The operations are continuing with the naval and military forces available on the spot.

Enemy Destroyer Sunk.
LONDON, March 19.—An wireless telegram from the admiralty today reported the operations in the Dardanelles.

Turkish newspapers reports that an enemy destroyer has been sunk in the Dardanelles and that one British battleship has been disabled and another damaged.
The British admiralty reports that the Queen Elizabeth and Implacable have been dispatched from England to replace the ships lost in anticipation of the operations, and that the Irresistible and Ocean have been sunk.
The admiralty also reports that the French battleship Bouvet was blown up by a mine in the Dardanelles and sunk, and that virtually all her crew was lost.
The admiralty statement adds that the battleships Queen and Implacable have been dispatched from England to replace the lost British ships.
The admiralty believes the Irresistible probably met with a like disaster. It is announced the operations against the Dardanelles are continuing.
The admiralty statement says the British losses among the personnel of the ships were not heavy, considering the scale of the operations.
The British battle cruiser Inflectible had her forward control hit by a heavy shell and will need repairs.
The Irresistible left the battle line sinking heavily, according to the report. Vice Admiral Sackville Hamilton, who is in command of the British fleet, is in command of the Dardanelles by Rear Admiral John M. de Robeck.

Result task of cutting the telegraph cable connecting Akko, Bahr, with Chanak, says the Star correspondent of Reuters Telegram company. The correspondent continues:
"She succeeded in lifting and cutting the cable under the Akko, and had started on her return journey when she was discovered. She then had to run the gauntlet of fire on both sides of the narrow, becoming the target of a veritable hail of fire, sinking at full speed, although frequently hit, she succeeded in getting beyond the range of the guns and reaching the entrance to the straits."

A British admiralty report issued on March 17 stated that in the fighting in the Dardanelles on March 13 the Amethyst made a dash into the straits. She was struck by several shells and had 23 men killed, 19 severely wounded and 13 slightly hurt.

All of Old Model.
The British battleship Irresistible was commanded by Captain The Hon. Stanhope Hawley, and in times of peace had a complement of 750 men. She was the largest of the three allied battleships sunk, being of 15,000 tons displacement and 420 feet long. The chief armament of the warship consisted of four 12-inch and 12 6-inch guns. She also carried 18 12-pounders, six 3-pounders, two maxims, four submerged torpedo tubes, and was protected by Krupp armor. The speed of the warship was 15 knots an hour. She was built in 1898 at a cost of $5,000,000.

The Ocean was commanded by Captain Arthur J. B. S. and had a crew of 750. She was 418 feet long, and of 12,500 tons displacement. Her armament was composed of four 12-inch and 12 6-inch guns, 10 12-pounders, six 3-pounders, two maxims, four submerged torpedo tubes and her armor was of Harvey-nickel make. She was of 18 knots speed and was built in 1898.

Fleet Enters Narrows.
LONDON, March 19.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Athens, dated Thursday, says:
"At 8 o'clock 16 allied warships entered the Narrows and opened a violent fire on the central forts, which replied with a lively, but unsuccessful, fire."

"The town of Dardanus is in flames. The operations are continuing at 6 o'clock this evening. The forts must have sustained great damage."

KARLSRUHE SUNK IN WEST INDIES IN NOVEMBER

LONDON, March 20 (Saturday).—The secretary of the British admiralty announced that there is every reason to believe that the German cruiser Karlsruhe was sunk in the neighborhood of the West Indies at the beginning of November and those of her crew rescued, reached Germany early in December on the steamer Rio Grande which had been acting in concert with the Karlsruhe.

ROCKEFELLER AGENT NOW IN COLORADO

King Here to Study Industrial Situation in Coal Mining Districts

DENVER, March 19.—W. L. MacKenzie-King, former Canadian minister of labor and now connected with the Rockefeller foundation, who arrived here today to conduct an investigation of industrial relations in Colorado, conferred late today with Governor Carlson. The governor, who listened to a brief outline of Mr. King's plans for study of the Colorado situation, assured him that whatever assistance possible would be rendered by the state in the inquiry.
Mr. King stated that his work would be conducted informally and that he would probably remain in Colorado several weeks. He added that it was not his purpose to make a formal investigation into the recent strike.
"My aim is that solely of endeavoring to be constructively helpful in regard to relations in which the public, quite as much as the immediate parties to industry, has a paramount concern," he said.
The purpose in initiating his industrial investigation in Colorado, he said, was the number and variety of industries in the state, the stage of its industrial development and the public interest aroused in its industrial affairs.

HORN TO BE TAKEN TO BOSTON FOR TRIAL

BANGOR, Me., March 19.—Werner Horn, who is charged with illegal interstate transportation of explosives in connection with his attempt to wreck the international railroad bridge at Vaneboro, will be taken to Boston for trial at the present term of the United States court as a result of the finding of Federal Commissioner Charles H. Reid here today. The commissioner decided that the indictment warrant, which was the only evidence offered by the prosecution, was sufficient basis for holding the prisoner.
The motion of the defense for the release of Horn on the ground that he was a belligerent engaged in an act of war, and not amenable to the courts of this country, was denied. Horn was set at $10,000 and Horn was ordered to the county jail in Portland, pending his removal to Boston. It is expected that he will be taken to Massachusetts early next week.

GERMAN COUNT RELEASED FROM AMERICAN PRISON

TRENTON, N. J., March 19.—The board of prison inspectors paroled today Emil Carl von Mueller of Hoboken, sentenced to the state prison in 1910 for five years on the charge of larceny. Mueller's family is said to be of German royalty, and he is referred to as a count.

MRS. BARRETT WINS CASE AGAINST THE MIDLAND

LEAHUR, March 20 (Saturday).—A jury this morning brought in a verdict for $12,500 against the Colorado Midland railway in a damage suit instituted by the widow of John Barrett, a locomotive fireman, who was killed by falling out of the engine cab one stormy night in January, 1914. Barrett struck the girder of a bridge and his head was severed from his body.

NEW HAVEN IS SUED FOR WASTED FUNDS

Minority Stockholders Ask Over $300,000,000 From Railroad Company
BOSTON, March 19.—Appointment by the state supreme judicial court of special prosecutors, to act in various jurisdictions on behalf of minority stockholders of the New Haven railroad, was asked today before the full bench by Sherman Whipple, counsel for the minority stockholders.
Whipple's clients are suing to recover more than $300,000,000 from former directors of the road. About $100,000,000 of this sum, they affirm, was spent in various improper railroad, steamship and trolley enterprises. Twice this sum, the suit alleges, also is collectible under the Sherman act as damages.
"There can be no question of responsibility," he asserted. "The time has passed when great corporations can say with impunity, 'We will put this thing or that thing through, no matter what the people say.'"
"We ask the court to appoint someone to represent the thousands of small stockholders, so that their claims may be prosecuted in four or five jurisdictions."

There is no question, Mr. Whipple said, that a suit against the estate of the late J. P. Morgan has been lost. This, he said, was due to "the delay of the directors of the road in filing an answer to our suit."

Defendants Rich Men.
The defendants, who were directors of the road at some time during the period between 1904 and 1909 when the money is alleged to have been wasted, are William Rockefeller, Charles M. Pratt, Lewis Cass, Ledyard, George M. Miller, James S. Hemingway, A. Houston-Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Charles F. Brooker, Dr. Newton Barney, James S. Elton, Henry K. McHarg, Robert W. Taft, William Skinner, Charles S. Mellen and Alexander Cochrane.

The other defendants are the executors of the estate of the late J. P. Morgan, Edward Milner, De Ver H. Wagon and Amey Lawrence, and the H. Wagon who have served as directors since 1909 and who are alleged to be liable for failure to bring suit against their predecessors. John L. Billard, George P. Baker, Thomas De Witt Taylor, Edward Miligan, Francis T. Maxwell, Theodore N. Vall, Sydney W. Winslow, Lawrence Minot, Samuel Rea, Morton P. Plant, De Ver H. Warner, Howard Elliott, James H. Richards, W. Murray Crane, Arthur T. Hailley and James H. Hustis.

Wasted Money of Company.
The bill charges that about 1904, Rockefeller, Milner, Brooker, Barney, Skinner, Miller and Taft acting in concert with J. Pierpont Morgan, Edward Milner and De Ver Warner, conspired and entered upon a plan to effect a monopoly of all transportation companies operating in New England and certain parts of New York and in acquiring such properties, paid large amounts in excess of the actual value. For street railways, it is claimed, $45,000,000 was thus wrongfully expended, $16,000,000 was lost in steamship enterprises, $22,000,000 on stock of the Boston & Maine railroad, and $18,000,000 on the New York, Westchester & Boston railroad.

The principal contention of the defendants is as to the right of minority stockholders to bring a bill of this nature, their claim being that such a bill could not be maintained given if it is in the name of the corporation itself.
The plaintiffs set forth that under the Sherman law they are entitled to recover for the road three times the amount claimed in the suit of $305,000,000.

IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENT BADLY IN NEED OF FUNDS

State Chamber of Commerce Asks Appropriation of $50,000 to Help Advertise Colorado

Money for the state immigration department is one of the greatest needs in the state, according to J. H. Jenkins, acting secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Jenkins was in this city yesterday to confer with Secretary A. W. Henderson and other members of the local association with regard to the state organization.

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce has asked the legislature for an appropriation of $50,000, to be used by the state immigration department for various advertising and publicity purposes in the east. The department has practically no money in the treasury, according to Jenkins, and needs it badly to bring good results.

"It is the aim of the immigration department to do some publicity work for Colorado in the eastern states and correct some of the wrong impressions that have been scattered broadcast within the last few years," said Jenkins.

DR. MEIKLEJOHN SPEAKS AT COLLEGE VESPERS

President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst college, who is a guest of President and Mrs. Slocum in Colorado Springs, will speak at the Colorado college vespers service tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in Perkins hall. The college orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Howe, will assist the choir, accompanying the hymns and playing Handel's Largo. The order of service is as follows: Organ Prelude. Processional—When Morning Gilds the Skies. Opening sentences. Psalm, followed by the Gloria. Anthem—The Magnificat. Simper Prayer. Hymn—O Jesus Thou Art Standing. Sermon. Prayer and Benediction. Recessional—O Jesus, I Have Promised. Organ Postlude.

County Teachers in Session in Fountain

Superintendent Frank D. Slutz of the Pueblo public schools gave the opening address at the meeting of the Parents, Teachers, and Directors association of El Paso county at Fountain last night. Practically all the county school teachers attended the meeting, which was held in the Fountain school building. An interesting program of speeches was given for today's session. This afternoon W. E. Vapion, state leader of the Boys and Girls' clubs, will talk. The program for today's meetings:

This Morning.

"The Association"—Inez Johnson Lewis. "Grammar in Its Practical Application to English"—L. B. Grafton, Colorado Springs.

Discussion—George W. Alps, Fountain. "Composition in the Grades"—Mrs. Henrietta Barnard.

Discussion—Mrs. Ethel King, Jessie Hagen, Jessie Shelden. "Literature for Young Minds"—First five grades, Mrs. Cora Jackson, Cathlamet; grades six to eight, Jerry Jones, Elliott.

This Afternoon. "New School Legislation"—E. K. Robinson, Colorado Springs. "Boys and Girls Clubs"—W. E. Vapion, Agricultural college.

Discussion—W. H. Lauck. Health Talk—Miss Florence Harvey, Colorado Springs.

Pueblo May Have Car in Tour to Chicago

The latest development in the Colorado Springs-Chicago automobile sociability run is the interest being taken in the proposed tour by Pueblo. The matter of sending a car by the Pueblo Commerce club has been referred to the publicity committee of that organization, and every effort will be made to secure a car for the trip. In discussing the matter with P. A. Gray, secretary of the Commerce club, yesterday Secretary A. W. Henderson, of the Chamber of Commerce was assured of the interest and support of the Pueblo people. The return trip from Chicago to the Pike's Peak region probably will be made by way of the Santa Fe Trail, which passes through Pueblo and in which the Commerce club is interested.

The Leadville Commercial club will meet next Wednesday to consider the advisability of sending a car to represent the mining interests of the region.

A complete itinerary is being worked out by the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Several letters have been received from business and commercial organizations along the proposed route, which advise the motorists that a hospitable reception will be awaiting them.

TEN YEARS MISERY ENDED. J. T. Chambers, merchant, Jonesboro, Ark., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills cured me of a ten-year standing case of rheumatism. I suffered miserably. A friend told me of being cured, so I used them, and they cured me, too. What a miracle! My men and women are glad to learn that Foley Kidney Pills afford a way to escape sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, puffiness, etc. My eyes, stiff and swollen joints, and other ills attributed to kidney trouble. Men Conceited, Says Visiting Suffragist Likes Colorado's Woman and Child Laws

"When I visit states where woman suffrage has been adopted and see the time, money and woman's energy that has been expended to secure it, I deplore the existing conditions. Woman suffrage should be secured by an amendment to the constitution, subject of course, to the ratification of the state legislatures, instead of coming slowly and wearily state by state."

This is the opinion of Mrs. Milton McNeillan of Parkersburg, W. Va., a prominent suffragist in the south, who was in Colorado Springs yesterday. Mrs. McNeillan is in Colorado to gather material on the effect of woman suffrage on the individual, city, county and state, the better to lead the campaign in West Virginia in 1916. The Virginia legislature has voted to submit to the people a suffrage amendment to the state constitution and Mrs. McNeillan is determined they shall have it.

West Virginia May Pass Bill.

The suffrage movement is spreading rapidly in the south, according to Mrs. McNeillan, and there is a possibility that West Virginia will pass the amendment in 1916. The prohibition amendment already has passed in that state, and it is a known fact, she said, that it is easier to get suffrage in prohibition states, where there are no liquor interests to fight.

Mrs. McNeillan is favorably impressed with the laws of Colorado pertaining to women and children. "They are the best I have ever seen," she said.

Indian Pueblo Will Be Rented to Carl Balcomb for $1,000

Mayor McKesson and City Clerk Chapman were authorized by the city council yesterday to sign the lease granted by the park commissioner to Carl Balcomb to conduct the new Indian pueblo to be constructed in the Garden of the Gods. The lease calls for a rental of $1,000 a year, payable in advance in quarterly installments. Balcomb is given an option of renewing the lease for a two-year period at a rental of $1,200 per year. The pueblo will be opened June 1.

The council granted G. W. Blake a permit to use the south side of the Lennox building for an automobile salesroom. Under the terms of the permit, no gasoline is to be stored in the building, no repair work is to be done, and it is not to be used as a public garage. The permit is for one year, and may be revoked at any time.

The matter of restricting junk yards to one locality was brought up by the application of Silverstein, a junk dealer, for a permit to conduct a yard at 234 West Huerfano. The members of the council took the position that they had been trying to clean up that section of the city for some time. The application was referred to Commissioner of Health Batts.

Tour Parties on Way to Colorado Springs

About 200 tourists were in Colorado Springs yesterday, on their way to the California expositions. A special tour party of 70 people from Cleveland, O., spent Thursday night at the Antlers hotel, and left yesterday noon for the west. A Raymond & Whitcomb party of 15 people left yesterday for California, after a trip by automobile in the Cave of the Winds and to Crystal park.

The return travel from the Pacific coast promises to be heavy in April, according to railroad agents, and a number of special parties are scheduled to pass through here in that month.

A party of the Bartlett Tours company, consisting of 10 people, will be in this city April 4 on the Rio Grande from Salt Lake City, and on April 12 the same road will bring a private car party of New York city people, who have been to the coast.

BROOKS REELECTED BY COSTILLA ESTATES CO.

Franklin E. Brooks was reelected president of the Costilla Estates and San Luis Southern Railway companies at the annual meetings held recently in Boston. The other officers are: H. Alexander Smith, vice president; C. A. Robinson, treasurer; and George W. Riebauer, secretary. The directors authorized the construction of the sixth and last of the big reservoirs, No. 6 being planned to store 4,500,000,000 gallons of water. Annual reports showed the companies to be in excellent condition.

D. U. WINS DEBATE

Denver university won the annual debate from Colorado college last night. The contest was held at Consett hall common room, the first of its kind ever held there, and an unusually large audience was present. The judges were C. C. Morris, Prof. E. A. Thuermer and Charles Craig. The question debated was "Resolved, That the only elective officers of the state government in Colorado should be a commission of five qualified citizens, to whom shall reside all legislative power, an auditor and a governor, in whom shall reside all executive power."

Should Not Feel Discouraged. So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. They contain no opium or other drug, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.

declared. "That is the direct result of suffrage, I believe. If women cannot have the power to protect mothers by introducing laws in their behalf, such laws will not be on the statute books. It must be women working for women and laws for the protection of children naturally will follow."

Mrs. McNeillan was surprised when she found there was no permanent minimum wage law in this state. "I surely thought it would be on your books," she said, "when it is so important to the welfare of women."

Wants Federal Amendment.

The old idea that state rights would be violated if a constitutional amendment were passed in congress providing for woman suffrage is absurd, thinks Mrs. McNeillan. "That amendment would be subject to the ratification of the state legislatures, and the people are represented through them. How then could it violate state rights?" she demanded. "It is strongly in favor of the federal amendment and feels that the Briestow-Mondell bill should be passed."

The Shattroth-Palmer amendment, also before congress, came in for Mrs. McNeillan's disapproval. "It provides that the suffrage amendment be referred to the people for vote in all the states," she said, "and goes back to the old doctrine of state rights. It is an attempt to placate those who uphold state rights."

Must Await Men's Wishes.

"It is humiliating to think that women have to wait for the verdict of a vast number of unintelligent men, who, with others in sympathy with progressive civilization, must give us power to vote."

Mrs. McNeillan left yesterday for Leadville and from there will go to Grand Junction, where she concludes her Colorado tour. She will visit California also to gather more data for the suffrage cause in West Virginia. She is the wife of a prominent physician in Parkersburg.

Rock Island G. P. A. Declares West Will Have Banner Year

Philip A. Auer, assistant general passenger agent of the Rock Island railroad, predicts that the tourist travel to Colorado Springs this year will break all previous records. Mr. Auer is here from Chicago on business. Thousands of people who formerly went to Europe each summer, and who have never been west, will come to the Pike's Peak region, according to Mr. Auer. "Colorado Springs need have no fear as to the volume of its tourist business this year," he said.

"We have a large amount of tourist business booked ahead. In fact, it will puzzle the western lines to handle the passenger traffic when it gets well under way. It is starting early, and from now on until New Year's tourist centers like Colorado Springs will have no reason to complain. The eastern people are going to see the west this year if they never do again."

RETAIL HARDWARE DEALERS HOLD EXECUTIVE SESSION

The first meeting of the executive committee of the State Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers association was held yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce. J. H. Jenkins of Pueblo was elected secretary. The annual convention of the state association was held in Pueblo last month. Routine business was transacted, and a discussion of ways and means to develop the organization followed. The officers of the state organization are: Theodore M. Harding of Canon City, president; Preston Day, Castle Rock, vice president; J. F. Jones, Denver, director; J. W. Valentine, Boulder, director; Adolph Unruh, Walsenburg, director. The next annual meeting of the association will be held in Denver in January, 1917.

GET RID OF LINGERING COLDS, COUGHS AND LA GRIPPE

Spring finds many afflicted with lingering, hacking coughs that weaken the system. Slush and wet cause more colds than any weather. Croup, bronchitis, and pneumonia are prevalent. Every family should have a safe and reliable cough medicine ready for use. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound contains no harmful ingredients. It cures a cough, checks a cold and relieves inflamed and congested membranes. It clears the air, soothes inflammation. Robinson Drug Co.

P. O. EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HEARS MANY APPLICANTS

Three Hundred Have Sought Work in Last Few Weeks; Employers Call at New Bureau

Nearly 300 people have applied at the postoffice for work since the employment bureau system was established in February, according to Postmaster O. W. Ward. Hardly a day has passed without five or six applicants, and additional application blanks have been ordered. A feature of this work is the increasing number of employers who have sent word that they were looking for suitable employees.

Within the next few weeks Ward expects to have the office in full swing, with the number of applicants doubled. With the beginning of summer there will be more employment demand, and the bureau will be a real help to farmers near Colorado Springs.

SUIT AGAINST PICTURE COMPANY IS DISMISSED

Question Involving Salary Settled Out of Court When Plaintiff Accepts Company's Offer

The suit of George Gebhardt against the Pike's Peak Film company, filed recently in justice court for salary alleged to be due, has been settled out of court and the action dismissed at plaintiff's cost. At the time Gebhardt's connection with the company terminated, he was offered the salary then due him, according to officials of the company. He asked for two weeks' salary and expenses back to New York, it is said, which was denied, and the suit followed. Now it has been settled out of court and the action dismissed.

Gebhardt is widely known as a motion picture actor and has appeared with a number of the biggest companies. What is regarded as one of his best pieces of work with the Pike's Peak company is the two-reel production, "The Greater Barrier," which was shown at the Opera house yesterday and Thursday.

Four of the local company's film dramas, each two-reel subjects, have been accepted by the Warner corporation for release through the United program, and will be sent out soon. All are western features and are captioned "The Coast," "The Parasite's Double," "The Duel of Hearts," and "The White Trail." "Told in the Rockies" is now in course of preparation and will be completed in a few days.

William V. Mong is the new leading man and scenario editor for the local company and a number of film dramas that he has written will be photographed whenever weather conditions make outdoor work practicable. Mong was scenario editor for the Selig company in Chicago for four years, many of the animal pictures taken in the famous Selig "Jungle" being from his scenarios. Otis B. Thayer, managing director of the Pike's Peak company, also is a graduate of the Selig school of photography making, and predicts that from now on some high-class picture dramas will be turned out here. Mong has given up the legitimate stage for motion pictures, his last appearance back there being in "The House Next Door."

SNOW PLAYS HAVOC WITH CITY PHONES

More than 700 local telephones were out of commission yesterday as a result of the heavy snow storm of Thursday night. The telephone company had a large force at work making repairs, but Manager P. A. Holland said it would require probably several days to locate and repair all trouble. He requested patrons to be patient, stating that matters were being adjusted as rapidly as possible.

DR. SLOCUM TO TALK AT COLLEGE CONFERENCE

President William F. Slocum of Colorado college will speak on "The Present Status and Probable Future of the College in the West" at the first conference of American colleges, to be held at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., next June. Leaders in educational matters from all parts of the nation are expected to participate in the meeting, which will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this country.

MISSIONARY WORKERS TO HOLD MEETINGS IN APRIL

The Laymen's Missionary movement of the Methodist Episcopal church will conduct an educational convention at the First M. E. church in this city, April 21 and 22, to which pastors and laymen of 40 churches of all denominations in the Colorado Springs district have been invited.

Dr. Henry J. Coker of Denver will be in charge. Among the speakers will be Bishop Edgar McConnell, Dr. James M. Taylor of South America, Dr. A. G. Kynett of Philadelphia, secretary of the board of home missions, Dr. Clarence Wilson, secretary of the Methodist Temperance society, Dr. A. F. Rogers, Dr. D. D. Forsyth, Dr. C. L. Mead, Dr. O. W. Pifer and Dr. Coker of Denver.

News of the Courts

Ray Mitchell, 19, and a boy 16 years old were arrested yesterday, charged with petit larceny. The boys are said to have taken some cast iron water pipes belonging to the city and sold them to junk dealers. Mitchell pleaded guilty before Justice Meadell yesterday and sentenced to 30 days.

Defendants in the case of the St. Paul Machinery Manufacturing company versus the Myron Stratton Home improvement company, filed in the district court an answer and cross-complaint, in which it asks for judgment for $3,062.65. The suit is for several hundred dollars, alleged to be due for supplies for a motor tractor. The defendant alleges that the tractor did not come up to specifications and that the amount asked represents the loss to the home.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Birdsell left yesterday for Maxwell, N. M., to bring back to Colorado Springs A. A. Avery, arrested there on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses in this city. The complaining witness, J. T. Engle of Omaha, Neb., alleges that he cashed a worthless draft for $100 for Avery on a train coming to Colorado Springs.

What are you, anyway? contemptuously inquired Mrs. Peck during the quarrel "a man or a mouse?" "A man," answered Henry Peck, bitterly. "If I were a mouse I'd have you up on that table right now, selling for help."

During this European struggle, it seems as though the only way they can end this cruel war is by cutting off one another's base of supplies and starve them out.

This American meat combine is using the same tactics on me, trying to cut off my base of supplies, and make me dance to their music. But they are not going to do it. Why? Because I have got the allies reinforcing me every day. What I mean by allies is my satisfied customers.

I had a couple of stockmen come to me this week, and they had been reading my advertisements. They said it did not make any difference how much money the combine got for their steers, they would not give them any more for their cattle, and they told me that in order to win this battle they would give me any assistance I needed, both financially or otherwise. I would mention their names, but they told me not to for the present. So here goes for some more meat at "live and let live" prices—

PEANUTS AS PART OF MENU

From the Kansas City Times
"Peanuts! Everybody knows they are nourishing. Everyone knows, too, that they are cheap, that their nutritive value compared with their cost is unusually high. Everyone knows, too, that it is far easier to shell peanuts than it is to shell most nuts. Two women with a shoebox full of black walnuts between them worked for an hour (two hours of labor that was) shelling them and at the end of their work they had just five heaping table-spoonfuls of nut meats. In two minutes one could easily shell that many peanuts, removing both the outside and the inside broken skin."

Here are some recipes that result in unusually good peanut dainties:
Cream Peanut Soup—One quart of milk, one teaspoonful of onion juice, one tablespoonful of concentrated paprika and white pepper, one cupful of ground peanuts, bayleaf and a little chopped celery, one-half teaspoonful of salt.

Heat the milk with the flavoring and then thicken it with the cornstarch rubbed smooth in a little cold milk. Add the peanuts and celery and strain. Serve very hot.

Peanut Loaf—Two cupfuls of cooked rice, one cupful of ground peanuts, rubbed to smoothness with butter, one cupful of cracker crumbs, two beaten eggs, one-half cupful of milk.

Mix all the ingredients thoroughly, leaving out some of the cracker crumbs. Mold into loaf shape and cover with these crumbs. Brown in a buttered baking pan.

Peanut Omelet—Four eggs, one-half cupful of milk, one-half cupful of peanuts, salt and pepper.

Beat the yolks until they are creamy, and then fold in the whites, beaten stiff. Add the milk and peanuts and season. Add and beat well. Pour into a hot buttered pan brown and fold.

Peanut Salad—One pound of fresh roasted peanuts, one head of crisp lettuce.

Wash the lettuce and crisp it in the refrigerator. Halve the nuts and pile them in the leaves of lettuce. Dress with French dressing.

Peanut Chocolate Candy—Two cupfuls of roasted peanuts, two cupfuls of granulated sugar, one fourth cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate, two teaspoonfuls of vanilla.

Put the sugar, water and chocolate in a saucepan and add the peanuts and nuts. Cook and pour into buttered plates.

Beat the milk and add the four eggs, beat until the milk and cornstarch are creamy. When the cream is thick and smooth, remove it from the fire and flavor with vanilla. Cool and pour in a small spongy cake that is stale. Top with whipped cream mixed with the peanuts.

Peanut Wafers—One cupful of sugar, two eggs, five tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, one fourth teaspoonful of baking powder, salt, one cupful of peanuts, chopped coarsely. Mix ingredients in order named and drop the mixture from a spoon on a buttered pan. Bake until brown.

Peanut Kisses—One quart of shelled and peeled peanuts, put through grinder. One half pound of powdered sugar, four egg whites. Beat the whites thoroughly and then beat in the sugar. Then add the nuts and drop on buttered paper from a teaspoon.

In all the recipes given the peanuts should be peeled as well as shelled.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

In the current issue of Farm and Livestock, a national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, Judson C. Welliver, Washington correspondent of that publication, writes an article in which he gives the following interesting facts about the foot and mouth disease.

"If you have a calf about 2 years old, it will not be hard to note the symptoms of foot and mouth disease. Cattle, sheep, pigs, horses are liable to it."

Watch an animal that shows the signs of the disease. It will be unable to eat and will be very restless. The tongue will be swollen and the mouth will be inflamed.

The report says that the disease is not dangerous to humans.

Cattle with this disease don't usually die of it. Commonly it would be

AN UNDER-WATER SCENE IN THE SUBMARINE PICTURES, OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY, MARCH 20.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"THE MASTER'S MODEL"

An intensely dramatic two-reel Thanhouser production, entitled "The Master's Model," will be the feature at the Empress today. The tragic story of a Magdalen, who might have been a Madonna, an intense character drama, starring Fan Bourke and Nolan Gail. Dramatically told, full of thrills and heart interest, full of tense dramatic situations, full of love and pathos and stirring the emotions of the beholder. It is beautifully photographed. Don't miss it.

"The Emerald Brooch," a majestic feature that's well worth while. A story wherein a clever clerk gets the better of a shoplifter. A detective drama with one unusual twist. A story of intense interest and dramatic power, and a story with a punch.

SUBMARINE PICTURES TODAY

Of all the dangerous occupations of diversions, that of killing a shark from 10 to 50 feet under water would seem to be the one most to be shunned. Yet many of the native natives in the Bahama islands engage in that sport, and one white man has a right to be called a shark hunter.

The white man who killed this shark under water is Ernest Williamson, one of the Williamson Brothers, who made submarine motion pictures a possibility. And he did it for the purpose of having a film of a fight between man and a shark to show to the public for its amusement. A native shark fighter had tried in vain to entice one of those monsters to attack him within range of the submerged photographic chamber. He killed several sharks, but they were all out of range of the motion picture camera.

It was then that Mr. Williamson decided he would attempt to kill a shark himself. He had watched how the native went about it. The members of the expedition tried to dissuade him, but he was determined to have as a thrilling climax to his submarine motion picture a fight between a man and a man-eating shark. He prepared himself for the fight in the native fashion, having his body and head thoroughly oiled, and arming himself with the long thin-bladed knife which the Bahamians use in killing sharks.

Twice he plunged under the water, seeking to get the shark within range of the camera, but it was not until the third attempt that he succeeded. To protect himself from the powerful tail of the shark and his six rows of pointed teeth, he grabbed it by the fin, and then, as he was drawn rapidly deeper by the shark, he gave a quick upward thrust with the knife, plunging it into a vital spot. He had been quickly to the surface for a breath of fresh air. The wounded shark turned slowly over and sank to the bottom of the sea, leaving a trail of blood behind. All of this is recorded in the Williamson submarine motion picture, which the Universal Film company will present at the Opera House today at 2:30, 4:15 and 8 p. m.

OPERATIC STAR SINGS

"HOME SWEET HOME"

Mme. Jeanne Jomelli, the gifted prima donna who last year appeared at the Metropolitan Grand Opera house in New York City, is the feature of a notable vaudeville bill to appear at the Opera House next week, when on account of an unusual movie is termed the Orpheum road show. From the imposing shadows of Gounod and Wagner, Mme. Jomelli turns to the world known and well-loved melodies of the people.

"Annie Laurie" and "Home Sweet Home." The New Orleans item made the following editorial comment on Mme. Jomelli's appearance recently on the Orpheum circuit in that city:

Someone has said that the character of a nation is expressed in a large degree by the music it loves. If this be true, America is not an altogether bad place and our civilization will stand the test of time. In these days of racy melodies, sentimental trash, and too much inferior music it is occasionally refreshing to hear the songs beloved by those of other days.

With the nation gone mad over animal dances, grotesque steps, bordering on the sensual, accompanied by jerky music, we are prone to comment on the decadence of the age. If you feel pessimistic, however, regarding the future, step over to the Orpheum some night this week and hear Mme. Jeanne Jomelli sing "Home Sweet Home" and "Annie Laurie." This gifted woman, late of the Metropolitan Opera company, has taken a flyer into the "two a day." While she may not be the greatest singer of the day, she has a wonderful voice, sweet and powerful, one easily ranking high up in the list of opera singers.

Would that more of these golden-voiced opera stars place their talents where those of us who cannot afford to attend grand opera could hear them.

As we said before, if you do not believe that the heart of America is sound at the core, take a trip to the Orpheum. The ragtime numbers on the bill, and the eccentric dances receive applause, but it remains for Mme. Jomelli to be accorded an ovation when she sings "Annie Laurie" and a riot when she sings "Home Sweet Home."

In viewing the audience a girl with a little too much paint on her cheeks, with her eyes gazing over the borderline where decorum is not always closely censured, was seen to wipe away a few tears. Perhaps it brought to her the days of childhood on farm or in village. She perhaps contrasted the simplicity and purity of that "Home Sweet Home" with the gaudiness and staid-backed surroundings of the city.

High up in the gallery, where the men and boys who can only afford a few dimes for amusement weekly hold sway, the scene was even more pronounced. "Home Sweet Home" also meant something to them.

The Orpheum box office opens today at 9 a. m. for Orpheum seat sale.

Splendid for Rheumatism.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mr. Dunbar, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and time again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times the cost. Obtainable everywhere.

BEWARE, DANCERS OF 40

The Fox Trot Too Strenuous for the Tired Business Man

From the New York Telegraph. WARNING—Don't overindulge in the tango, the fox trot or even the hesitation if you are past the age of 40 years or if your heart is weak.

The above was the advice of several New York physicians when their attention was called to the death in Brooklyn of Joseph F. Simmons, a retired cigar manufacturer, who fell dead while tripping the measures of the fox trot in a Brooklyn dance hall.

Simmons, who was 45 and was afflicted with heart disease, was an ardent devotee of the dance. It was his sole diversion, and his wife and family encouraged him and were pleased that he was far more expert in doing the intricate steps than many of the younger generation.

However, some while ago his physician warned him that his heart was weak and advised him not to do too much dancing. But Simmons refused to "cut" a single dance and a few days ago, while dancing with one of the young women instructors in the hall, he suddenly toppled over and was dead before a physician could reach him.

In speaking of the case yesterday one physician, who is himself a regular attendant at several of Broadway's most popular "trotteries," said:

"Dancing is one of the greatest of diversions and is a stimulant that cannot be surpassed. But there is a place to draw the line. After a man passes the age of 40 his strength begins to wane and his heart is gradually becoming weaker. It cannot—that is, in the majority of cases—pump the blood with sufficient force to create the vitality necessary to support the strain of constant dancing, especially the dances that are now the rage.

"For the business men, whose work keeps him confined and allows him little chance for exercise, I know of no better form of recreation, but there is a great strain attendant upon doing the prettiest dance while and every one, especially those men who are past middle age, should be careful and not do too much of it.

"How about women?" he was asked. "Do they come under the same general rule?"

"To a certain extent," replied the physician. "They do, but there is not nearly the same exertion on the part of the woman as there is on the part of her partner. The man is compelled to support the woman while dancing, and this places a strain upon his arms, back and shoulders that the woman does not have to bear. Consequently he is under a far greater expenditure of physical energy than his partner, on whom the strain is chiefly confined to the legs and hips.

"Would you advise middle aged men not to tango?"

"I certainly should not. But I would advise them not to overindulge. They should limit their steps and should rest and relax between every dance or two."

"But give up dancing—never."

A YOUNG GIRL'S THOUGHTS

In the March Woman's Home Companion, Ida M. Tarbell writes a highly entertaining and suggestive article entitled "A Young Girl's Thoughts," in which she says that it is highly probable that kind parents do not know what is in their daughter's mind. Following is an extract:

"There is the value of secrecy, where the grown-up move but never admit her—whispering sometimes in her presence things she cannot understand, but which she senses concern her. These things she feels she must know. The impression they make on her is that, though they themselves walk in this vale, they still think it somehow wrong. And there are moments when she weeps because these guardians and friends are smothered in her eyes by their concealments and winkings. She hates them at moments—she who talks so much of goodness and doing right. Why, why are they not fair with her? Nothing is told to her—nothing but concealment and lying. That is the way she is made. But she will know, and she finds out, and builds up strange, distorted images of things—unclean false notions. A few years later when she is in the high school the grown-ups will attempt to teach her something of the value of secrecy. It is too late. She has a score of things they have forgotten, for they are old and are to young the general that the girls take out of their heads to tell. They shock her, by the way, and she is indirect, and she is the best of girls."

CLOSING OF MEXICAN PORT WOULD GREATLY AFFECT U. S. WHEAT

WASHINGTON, March 19.—How seriously American wheat and other grain crops would have been affected had General Carranza called out his fleet to close the port of Ensenada, on the west coast of Mexico, is indicated by the report of a government statement today.

The United States imports from Yucatan through the port of Progreso practically all of its annual fiber, used in making binder twine for harvesting wheat, etc., amounting in normal years to 300,000,000 pounds. Had that port been closed, the supply of twine would have been cut off.

Already disturbances in Mexico have resulted in a shortage of fiber in this country. Between January 1 and February 28 only 57,891 bales of 350 pounds each were imported, compared with 156,659 in the same period last year. The demand for twine the department says is certain to be greater than ever before. If estimates for the biggest wheat crop ever produced are borne out.

The cutting off of further supplies of twine would have resulted in the loss of a very large portion of the wheat and other crops.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY STAFF IS CUT WHEN FUNDS ARE DEPLETED

NEW YORK, March 19.—The American Baptist foreign mission society announced today that it had accepted the resignation of the two most recent additions to its staff of secretaries, the Rev. Dr. Emory W. Hunt, former president of the Denison University, Granville, O., and the Rev. Arthur C. Baldwin, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of Fall River, Mass.

Messrs. Hunt and Baldwin, it was announced, had voluntarily tendered their resignations because of the critical financial situation which the society faced. The resignations, the announcement continues, were reluctantly accepted when the financial situation became so acute that it became necessary to accept them.

Dr. Hunt was general secretary of the society and Mr. Baldwin was foreign secretary. The society's statement says:

"The possibility that it might be necessary for financial reasons not only to send out no new secretaries the coming year, but even to retain at home most of those now in this country on furlough and to reduce appropriations for the maintenance of the work of those on the foreign fields has given both the members of the board of managers and officers of the society and denomination at large the gravest concern."

ANGLO-FRENCH FLEET PROCEEDING SLOWLY AGAINST DARDANELLES

MILAN (via Paris), March 19.—Prudence will govern the efforts of the admirals of the allied fleet to force a passage of the Dardanelles, according to a special correspondent of the Corriere della Sera, who gives the captain of the French hospital ship "Canada" as authority for the statement. At least another month, he says, will be spent in efforts to silence the Turkish fortifications, especially those guarding the narrow at Chanak, Kalesi.

The operations against Smyrna, the correspondent declares, had a double object, the first is said to have been to prevent the transfer of the Thirteenth Turkish army corps, which is preparing to leave for the Dardanelles and the second to cut the communication of the army which was sent against Egypt.

PARIS, March 19.—3 a. m.—The Athens correspondent of the Havas agency in a dispatch, dated March 17, says the naval operations of the allies at Smyrna, Asiatic Turkey, have been temporarily suspended and the Turks are profiting by this respite to repair the damage to their batteries and forts.

They are pursuing the same course also at the Dardanelles and on either shore of the Sea of Marmora.

There are about 180,000 Turkish troops west of Constantinople, according to latest information reaching Athens. The correspondent continues. Forty thousand men are on the Gallipoli peninsula; 30,000 are in European Turkey, and the rest are on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles.

It is reported here that the Turks are placing guns on the principal heights surrounding Constantinople, on both sides of the Bosphorus.

MOTHER RESPONSIBLE FOR POISONING CHILDREN

NEW YORK, March 19.—Loretta Rogers, 8 months old, and his brother, John, aged 2 years, children of Loretta Elton Rogers and Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters came to their death through poison administered by their mother, according to the formal verdict of a coroner's jury today.

Mrs. Walters is locked up awaiting trial on an indictment charging her with their murder. The children died a day or so after they had been poisoned on December 29. Mrs. Walters arrived the poison lotion she herself took.

RICH MAN WILLS FORTUNE WITH DOG TO CHILDREN

ROXBURG, Ore., March 19.—I hereby bequeath my entire estate consisting of money, stocks and property, to the children of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Nichols of Riddle, with the understanding that they are to care for my dog, puppy as long as it lives. Was the initial part of a will filed by James Rice of Riddle in the probate court here.

Mr. Rice has lived in southern Oregon recently for many years and is a great admirer of the Nichols children. Recently he decided that they should have his property and money following his death.

NEW ENVOY FROM BELGIUM RECEIVED BY PAPAL COURT

ROME, March 19.—Baron Von den Heuvel, newly appointed Belgian minister to the Vatican presented his credentials to Pope Benedict, who received him in the throne room, surrounded by the papal court.

Baron Van den Heuvel delivered an address in which he emphasized the loyalty of the Roman Catholics of Belgium and said he felt certain of the assistance of the holy see in attaining the ultimate triumph of the rights of Belgium.

The pope responded with expressions of solicitude and pledged his untiring efforts to diminish the suffering occasioned by the war and to hasten its end.

WILL ERECT MONUMENT TO $12,000 PRIZE BULL

CAMDEN, N. J., March 19.—A herd of prize cattle, valued at $10,000, hopelessly infected with the foot and mouth disease, was shot on the farm of Ephraim T. Gill at Haddonfield.

Among the 120 animals was S. Glenwood, a $12,000 bull that had taken many prizes. Gill said he would bury the blue ribbons the bull won with him and erect a monument on his grave.

STANDARD OIL TO BUILD $100,000 CAFE ROOM

NEW YORK, March 19.—That a $100,000 dining room is to be constructed on top of the Standard Oil company's 16-story office building at 26 Broadway, became known when plans for the erection of another story to that building were made public. The additional floor, it was stated, would be used for private dining rooms for officials and employees of the company. The present dining room is in the basement.

Hader, do you think that styles in our street attire will continue to grow more daring? Marjorie—If they do, my dear the girls will have to wear masks. The Club-Fellow.

DENVER & RIO GRANDE

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 19.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

From every part of the country the reports are of trade improvement, rich, though slow and conservative, tending to reduce the margin of deficiency in production and demand, and bring the volume of transactions close to normal.

Winter weather conditions give promise of another heavy yield. There is increasing strength in the financial position of the country, and exports continue heavy.

Business conditions in this country are remarkably good, considering the fact that the whole world is in a slump.

Bank clearings for the week aggregate $2,853,726,721, a loan of 5.5 per cent from the same week last year and 4.1 per cent from the corresponding week in 1918.

Business failures for the week number 487, against 632 last week, with in the like week last year."
